JOHN A. BRITTON, MANAGER PACIFIC GAS & ELECTRIC CO., BUYS HOME HERE

J. M. Eva House Will Be Occupied by Family of Daughter of Company Manager

John A. Britton, vice president and general manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, has purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Eva on the corner of Brewster and Fulton streets.

This is one of the show places of Redwood Highlands and Mr. Britton is to be congratulated in his purchase. The place will be occupied by the Kellogg family, Mrs. Kellog being a daughter of Mr. Britton. Mr. and Mrs. Eva will occupy the pretty bungalow at 20 Hudson street, which will be vecated by the Kelloggs, until their new home which they plan to build on the property just sold is completed.

This sale was made by Letts & Witte and is reported to be the largest sale of a single home in Redwood Highlands.

Letts & Witte also report the sale of the G. W. Pnelps home on Arlington road, Wellesley Park, to J. W. Fisher of San Francisco. This firm also sold for Joe Demma the house and improvement son Redwood avenue to B. F. Paulson, and a small bungalow in Dumbarton Oaks to a Miss Rothfuss for the account of H. W. Osthoff of San Francisco. They report very brisk inquiry and suggest that owners report to them if they have any properties for sale.

EULOGY ON THE LIFE OF MRS. ANNE GERWIN

Mrs. Apne Gerwin, wife of George H Gerwin, a business man of San Francisco, passed away at her home on Brewster street last Friday following a long illness. She had been a resident of Redwood City for the past 18 years, during which time she endeaeared herself to all by her winsome ways and lovable nature. No one knew her but to love her. She is survived by her husband and two lovely daughters, Miss Anadell Gerwin, librarian at the high school, and Miss Vera Gerwin. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon and interment was in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Colma. Father C. E. Kennedy conducted services at the residence before the body was removed.

Mrs. Gerwin was an active member of the Redwood City Woman's Club and the Gen. George S. Evans Relief Corps. Delegations from each organization attended the funeral.

Just before the funeral the members of the Woman's Club met at the clubhouse in Redwood Highlands and held short services. Mrs. H. C. Finkler, past president of the organization, delivered the following touching and beautiful eulogy upon the life and character of the deceased member:

Madam President and members of the Redwood City Woman's Club: On October 21, 1921, God in His infinite wisdom called our beloved member, Mrs. Anne Gerwin, to her heavenly home, and the great honor has been bestowed upon me by our president, Mrs. Fred Lippman, to speak a few words in her memory in our club home which she loved so well. Mrs. Gerwin was born in New York, came to San Francisco when six years of age, where she resided until about sixteen years ago, when with her family she became a resident of Redwood City.

In 1909 she became a charter member of the Redwood City Woman's Club and was always one of its most faithful members. In 1909 the Los Angeles section, El Camino Real, presented her with a life membership for her splendid work in history and landmarks section and for raising money for the bell erected on El Camino Real at Redwood City. She worked hard and was rewarded in having a rest room for teachers and girls established in Sequoia Union High School. She was a faithful chairman on the house committee and hospitality and by her earnest efforts greatly assisted in the growth of the club. She loved the club members and always carried the red geranium, the club flower, to all of the meetings.

Mrs. Gerwin loved club work and had a great vision of the future of club women and their duties in the world. She was a woman of the highest ideals and her memory will forever remain an inspiration to all who knew her.

The Redwood City Woman's Club and devoted friends of this community extend sympathy to the bereaved family and trust that God may give them strength to bear their great loss.

There is no death; an angel form
Walks o'er the earth with silent tread;
He bears our best loved things away,
And then we call them "dead."

And ever near us, though unseen,
The dear immortal spirits tread;
For all the boundless universe
Is life—there are no dead.

FORMER DINGEE HOUSE SOLD TO MRS. CASARETTO

Dingee, then n the heydey of his wealth and affluence, was sold this week by the trustees of the school to Mrs. Joseph Casaretto for $950, she being the highest bidder. It will be moved within 30 days from its present location near the highway to another site in Redwood Highlands. All the material used in the structure is of slate. It s a substantial five-room cottage with all the modern conveniences. There were four other bids for the building, the nearest to that of Mrs. Casaretto being $925.

NEW BRANCH MANAGER FOR C. P. TITLE INSURANCE CO.

Following the resignation of R. F. Chilcott, the California Pacific Title Insurance Company announces the appointment of A. M. Hope as manager of its branch office.

A long experience in title work prior to the world war, first in Oregon and then in the Title Insurance and Trust Company of Los Angeles, fitted Mr. Hope to undertake, after the termination of his war service, the duties of assistant secretary, title examiner and escrow officer with the Oakland Title Insurance and Guaranty Company. It is from his position with the Oakland company that Mr. Hope resigns to accept the appointment in Redwood City, where he will establish a home for his family very soon.

L. A. HEINER QUITS THE GOVERNMENT SERVICE

L. A. Heiner, for the past twenty years an employe in the customhouse at San Francisco, has resigned to become president of the Western Title and Insurance Company of San Jose. Mr. Heiner resigned his position as prncipal of the grammar school at South San Francisco twenty years ago to become an inspector at the custom house. He was promoted from time to time until he became examiner of merchandise, one of the most responsible positions in the service. Had he remained with teaching Mr. Hener might now be enjoying one of those lucrative superintendencies, such as Oakland, with a salary of $10,000 annually, or of San Jose, $7,500, Fresno $10,000 or Sacramento, now held by a Redwood City man, Charles Hughes, with a salary of $8,000. The lure of politics very often takes away young men who would have made successes in other pursuits.

PETERSON & HAYWOOD ARE EXTENDING OPERATIONS

Peterson & Haywood, landscape engineers and general nurserymen of Burlingame, announce that they are prepared to do all kinds of landscape work on the peninsula. The landscape department of the concern is under the supervision of F. G. Hutchinson, who has had much experience along this line on the peninsula, having been employed by the owners of many of the large estates in the county. A number of the big gardens of the peninsula have been designed by this firm, including the grounds of the Pacific Studios.

APPRAISER APPOINTED

Judge Buck has appointed R. F. Chilcott inheritance tax appraiser of the estate of Estell Cofinberry, deceased.

CAR LOOTER WANTS JOB AS STRIKE-BREAKER

A. J. Harris, the box car robber, who had his preliminary examination before Judge Griffin on Thursday and was held over to the superior court on charge of burglary, has a scheme to escape punishment. He wants to be a railroad strikebreaker, but instead is an involuntary guest at the county jail because of the fact that he can not furnish bail in the trifling sum of a couple o fthousand dollars.

Last wek he was arrested by the Southern Pacific police for alleged theft of a box of shoes from a freight train that was sidetracked on the Dumbarton line. Harris has a splendid sense of humor. When he was locked up he wrote a letter to President Sproul of the Southern Pacific Company saying that he had noticed in the daily press the railroad was likely to have a strike. He said if the charge against him was dismssed by the company he would gladly agree to go to work and help run the trains. Harris has been expecting an answer every day, but President Sproul has evidently consigned the epistle to the waste basket.

FIGHTS AND ROWS AMONG THE GREWS ALL HUNTING FOR OUR COUNTY BOOZE

Booze seized in San Mateo county seems to become very active on being transferred to San Francisco. In fact it disappears very rapidly, not only on the way to incarceration at the United States custom house, but after arriving there. Out of a seizure of liquid inspiration said to be worth $64,000 at coast resorts none was brought to the city. It all disappeared between Princeton and San Francisco, supposedly having been taken by fake revenue officers. Real officers captured and delivered to the custom house $1000 worth of booze. It became active at once. First it was stored in the carpenter's room. But it didn't remain in storage. Now two intelligence officers are attempting to learn where it went. The whiskey was abstracted from its place of concealment and then hidden in a stove in a room on the fourth floor, according to what the officers have learned. Then it was lowered to the sidewalk and from there seems to have walked away. Two engineers in the basement had a fight because each told a different story to the revenue officers. Investigators hope because of this fight some additional informatio nmay be gained toat will lead to the recovery of the thousand dollars' worth of San Mateo county whiskey. Meanwhile the search continues and the booze eludes all efforts at discovery.

FORMER POLITICAL RULER OF COUNTY COMES TO REDWOOD CITY TO STAY

Jack Fleming Had High Old Time Running Things in the Early Days

A tottering, feeble old man came to Redwood City the other day from San Mateo to pass the few remaining years of his life in the mild and warm climate of the county seat where in years of long ago he used to come in pomp behind a spanking team from his home in Halfmoon Bay. This old man is Jack Fleming, once the political leader and uncrowned king of San Mateo county, a man who at one time held the destinies of the peninsula in his hands. He was an astute and skillful politician who manipulated county conventons to suit hi sown caprice. But like all politicians he had his day, others came to take his place and having lost his power and influence he was soon forgotten by those he had helped in the days of his power and prosperity.

Almost a Pioneer

Mr. Fleming was born in the county of Tipperary, Ireland, more than 80 years ago. As a boy he went before the mast, sailing from his native land to the East Indies in the fifties. He arrived in San Francisco in 1859 from China. Shortly afterward he came to this county, doing his first work for the late Christopher Bollinger, who resided on a ranch back of Belmont. Later he went to Halfmoon Bay to conduct a dairy for the late James Dinniston. He was active during the civil war raising funds and recruits for the army and soon his abilities became known. Fleming then blossomed out as a political boss. Any aspirant for office in the county had to first make peace with Jack before shying a castor into the political ring. He had to be consulted. Owing to the vast amount of farming done in those days on the coast the bulk of the population of the county was located there. That section held the balance of power. Jack would appear at the county conventions with his delegates and usually swung the meeting to suit himself.

Port Collector at Halfmoon Bay

His power and influence were felt in these gatherings and all the prospective candidates for office courted his support. Mr. Fleming was fair and always dealt honestly with his friends. He was always a staunch Republican and worked for his party in fair weather and foul weather. The time came when he wanted some reward for his fealty. This was in the early seventies. He went to the late Timothy Guy Phelps, then collector of the port at San Francisco, and asked to be made collector of the port at Halfmoon Bay, the position then being held by the late J. C. Maynard. Phelps sent in Fleming's name to Washington for appointment. The collector was surprised in a few weeks to have the papers returned without the arpproval of the proper authorities. He sent for Jack. After considerable investigation it was learned that one J. P. Ames, afterward the warden at San Quentin, and a bosom friend of Mr. Fleming, was seeking the appointment for Bill Clark. Fleming's ire was aroused. He went to Sacramento, where the legislature was in session. He secured the indorsement of the senators and at once sent it to his friend, George C. Gorham, then secretary of the United States senate, who placed the papers in the proper hands, so that in a few days Jack received his coveted appointment. He never forgave Ames for his treachery.

Collected Duties from Wreck

Fleming held the position for 20 years until it was abolished by the treasury department. During his term of office a vessel containing a large cargo of merchandise from Liverpool was wrecked on the reefs near the coast off Halfmoon Bay. The vast cargo consisted of dutiable articles and it was the province of the collector to protect the interest of the government and secure the required revenue as these goods were taken from the ship. It was two years before the wreck was cleared and during that time Fleming received a princely salary.

After that his principal work was to keep a lookout for smugglers. In the present day of bootlegging what a rich harvest could be reaped by a dishonest collector in permitting the ships with contraband liquor to land. But Jack was honest and left a splendid record as a collector.

The Break That Came

In 1884 Jack came to the Republican convention held in Redwood City for party nominations. He had his slate and made every effort to put it through the convention but failed. His power was on the wane. He was defeated. Redwood City captured all the offices that year. Jack was mad clear through. He bolted the convention. He came out squarely for James V. Coleman, Democartic candidate for the assembly. Jack made an intense canvass for Coleman, who was elected that fall, defeating young Horace Hawes, the Republican nominee, by a small margin of eight votes. Fleming claimed all credit for the victory. Coleman afterward became a national figure in politics.

Fleming had lost his prestige and could never again secure a foothold in the Republican party. He tried to become harbor commiisioner of San Francisco but failed to secure the appointment.

Friend of Famous Men

Jack in the heyday of his power and influence was convivial, liked congenial companions and did not lay up for the winter like his friend, J. P. Ames, who died some years ago leaving an estate of half a million dollars. Jack was like the little crickets who dance all summer and did not provide for the chilly blasts of winter, and so when the evening of life came around it found him without a store of this world's goods. Fleming is a noted story teller. He could hold his companions for hours by his wise sayings and yarns and keep them in roars of laughter all the time. He was a genial companion and in the days of his prosperity had as friends such men as G. C. Perkns, Senator Felton, Timothy Guy Phelps, M. M. Estee, George C. Gorham, J. V. Coleman and other celebrities of that time. Politicians sought his advice and influence.

Now as he aprpoaches the valley of the shadows he may look back on his early political career in San Mateo county conscious that he fulfilled every trust imposed on him by his party. To the memory of those whom he assisted in the palmy days of his political strength and prosperity and who deserted him when adversity came he cherishes no feeling of resentment or reproach.

FINAL REPORT MADE BY PHELPS EXECUTORS

W. F. Chpman and the Union Trust Company of San Francisco, trustees under the trust formed by the last will and testament of Josephine A. Phelps, deceased, have filed their fourth and final report. The report is very lengthy, covering many typewritten pages, going into the history of the estate very thoroughly. According to the report the total receipts were $72,267.37, total disbursements $59,592.17, leaving a balance of $12,675.20. The income from all the property at San Carlos was $5,568.15 and disbursements $10,688.25, overdraft $5,120.10. The account came up for settlement before Judge Buck Thursday morning. It was strenuously opposed by Attorney Linforth on behalf of Mrs. Eugenie Schroeder. The hearing was continued to November 8.

IRENE DICKEY RESIGNS POSITION AS TEACHER

Miss Irene Dickey resigned her position in the Redwood City school department yesterday. For the past two years she was in charge of the Lincoln school in Wellesley Park. Miss Dickey is popular and clever educator and held in high esteem by the trustees of this city. She is extremely popular with her pupils, who regret to learn of her departure from the school room. She will be married in December to James A. Lee, cit ytreasurer of San Mateo. Miss Gertrude Beeger will take the place left vacant by the resignation of Miss Dickey.

GET MORE TRAINS TO RUN VIA REDWOOD CITY

The movement to bring the transcontinental passenger trains directly to San Francsco by way of the Dumbarton cutoff has taken a substantial form. The supervisors of San Francisco have taken up the matter and next Monday afternoon the question will be discussed in conjunction with delegates from all the chambers of commerce of the peninsula.

San Mateo county is back of this movement. It will give its full support to the proposition. The people of the county consder the proposed route would be of great business advantage to the peninsula as well as to San Francisco and the traveling public. The Southern Pacific is requested to make the change. The proposition is to route trains through Niles canyon to Dumbarton bridge and by a circuitous route bring them directly into the city instead of to the Oakland mole as is done now.

JOHNNY, GIT YER GUN! QUAIL SEASON HAS BEGUN

The quail season opens on next Tuesday. For some time local hunters have been busy brushing up their guns and getting them ready for the great event. It is reported that the birds are quite plentiful in the foothills and in the mountains, but are scarce in the valley. They are also somewhat timid about coming out to feed, so that the hunters will be compelled to do considerable tramping to secure the limit, which is 15 a day and 30 a week. Early next Tuesday there will be a big rush to the foothills to gather in the wary quail. All sportsmen claim the season will open with good shooting and that many limit bags will be taken the first day. Among those who will seek the hunting grounds will be Claud Fox, the veteran hunter; Guy P. Hull, Will Carnduff, W. Casey, George Genochio, John Genochio, J. F. Johnston and Jeff Moore.

R. F. CHILCOTT RETURNS FROM STAY AT HOSPITAL

R. F. Chilcott returned from the South San Francisco hospital during the week after spending ten days there. He has not recovered from his recent operation. For a number of years he has been manager of the California Pacific Title Insurance Company here. During the week he resigned his place. He will be succeeded by Mr. Hope, an experienced abstract man of Oakland. When Mr. Chilcott recovers his health he will become the manager of the Western Title Insurance Company of San Jose, a new concern organized principally by local capital.

THOMPSON GETS CONTRACT FOR STREET WORK

Monday night the town trustees accepted the bid of W. W. Tmompson of this city for the street work in Redwood Highlands. His bid was $30,919.55. It was almost $6,000 lower than the nearest competitor, the Granite Rock Company of Watsonville, and fully $15,000 lower than the other bidder, Hutchinson & Co. of Oakland.

The only bid submitted for the Finger avenue improvements was by the Granite Rock Company, which bid $14,619.50. However, it was more than $2,000 higher than the estimate of C. L. Dimmitt, city engineer. The trustees could do nothing but reject the bid. The trustees are thinking seriously of doing the work by day's labor and eliminating the contractors. Thompson will begin his work at once so that his contract may be completed before the rains come.

J. B. Perry ,the wood and coal dealer, appeared before the board and asked to have Jeter street in front of his property improved and the curbing put in. City Attorney Mansfield explained that lot owners had the choice of two methods to have the work done. One is to bring suit against the tract owners to compel them to carry out their agreement and the other is to go ahead and do the work and then bring suit to collect the amount paid for the work. Perry said he preferred to proceed under the second plan and he asked that the board order the improvements made. After discussion the matter was referred to Trustee Tuchsen, who agreed to confer with the tract owners in San Francisco to ascertain what action they desired to take.

The local post of the American Legion was given permisison to conduct a carnival in Redwood City during the week and until next Tuesday. The post is to receive $500 from the carnival company. The post is in need of funds to carry on its commendable work at the base hospital in aiding disabled soldiers.

Floyd Granger, who had been requested at a previous meeting to submit a price on the cost of a float to represent Redwood City in the Armistice Day parade in San Mateo on November 11, reported that he had a figure of $150 from Mr. Doxsee, local painter and decorator. On motion of Trustee Tuchsen, seconded by Trustee Mabie, Granger, who represented the local post of the American Legion, was instructed to arrange for the float, the cost of which is not to exceed the amount stated.

City Attorney Mansfield presented an ordinance regulating the use of awnings in Redwood City. The ordinance was given its initial reading.

C. L. Dimmitt presented an elaborate report concerning the contemplated improvements to the city's water system. He estimated that the improvements would cost about $20,000. This would include 15 additional fire hydrants.

Mayor Ryan said at this time it would be out of the question to entertais the matter. He said the city needs at once a pumping engine and urged that steps be taken right away to purchase the apparatus. He volunteered to have a demonstration made by an engine from one of the nearby cities, which he was sure he could get for the occasion. This met with the approval of the other members of the board and the date for holding the demonstration was left in the hands of Mayor Ryan. He was also given permisison to look into the matter of selling the present fire truck.

On request of the Peninsula Bureau the city clerk was instructed to request the Southern Pacific to route passenger trains over the Dumbarton bridge, as explained in the Times-Gazette last week.

GOBS OF GOBLINS, SPOOKS, GHOSTS TO APPEAR AT CARNIVAL TONIGHT

Great Preparations Made for Fun by High School Seniors---Bring Plenty Cash

By LORRAINE BRESSE

The senior carnival is tonight at 7:30. Witches, goblins, ghosts, as well as black cats and spirits will be there. All the boys and girls in the town are going to see those weird creatures who appear only on Hallowe'en. Your boy isn't going to be left out, is he Of course not. And you're coming to see that one of the goblins doesn't come along and put him in the witches' kettle for the big feast. You abosulutely cannot leave mother and baby home alone, so you must bring them along too, to enjoy the festivity of the spiritual beings. Is grandmother visiting at your house? Now, isn't that fine? This carnival is for old and young alike and I know she will be delighted with all the pleasure which is in store for her.

Remember the Hallowe'en parties you used to have in the old school house? This is just the same, only more exciting and spooky.

Madame Romany, the queen of the witches, who has the greatest supernatural powers of anyone on this earth, is one of the big attractions that we have for you. She can reveal your past, present and future life by mystic signs from the heavens. Do not fail to see her. She interviews only one at a time and your sacred secrets will never be betrayed.

Did you ever go fishing in the clouds? Come and learn the art of the lucky fishermen. Fish are plentiful, so you are bound to get a catch.

The ghost of old Bill Scroggin has been restlessly wandering about for the past year and it must be captured tonight. If you succeed in hitting Old Bill, known as "Satan" in the spiritual world, your fortune is made.

Another interesting attraction, especially for the kiddies, is the caldron of the witches: In it are contained all sorts of Hallowe'en goodies. Don't fail to satisfy the little ones.

You haven't forgotten the cakes and pies mother used to make, have you? Pumpkin and mince pies like the ones you stole from the pantry shelf years ago when you were a kid? Old Mother Goose is making one just for you, so you must come to get it.

Candy experts have worked diligently to provide enough sweetmeats for everyone. You like home made candy, don't you? Fudge, pinoche and all the other choice candies you used to make are to be on sale for you to buy.

Dancing is the great drawing card to the carnival. We have engaged the wonderful Bohemian orchestra which is noted for its excellent music. The witches' dance is one of the "specials." Don't miss it. It's worth the price of admisison in itself.

Tickets are being sold by the seniors, who wish to make ths carnival a success. The proceeds are to be used for publishing the 1922 annual and it is necessary that we receive your support. Door prizes of value will be given, so secure a ticket if possible. Remember, folks,

Senior Carnival! Tonight! October 29. "Haunted" barn. Hgh School campus. Admission 25c.

Excellent music for dancing will be furnished.

Rowdyism at Freshman Party

Friday evening the members of the class of '25 (low freshmen) held a fancy dress party on the new school property. The barn was artistically decorated with autumn leaves and effective black and orange crepe paper hangings. The gay Hallowe'en costumes added color to the already bright scene. Dancing and games were indulged in by the freshmen.

Light refreshments were served later in the evening and though three cakes were stolen and the stove knocked down by upper classmen, the class of '25 will always remember its first scial event through all the years of high school life.

STATE OFFICERS COME HERE FOR TAX INFORMATION

Ray L. Riley, state controller, R. Collins, chairman of the state board of equalization, and John Corbett, a member of the board, were here on Thursday afternoon consulting with Assessor D. P. Flynn. The gentlemen made an exhaustive investigation of the property assessments of the county. They secured much data along this line to aid the attorney general of the state in his defense of the King bill now being attacked by the Southern Pacific Company and other corporations in the courts of the state. Mr. Flynn is also to secure other data to be furnished the board of equalization at an early date. Mr. Flynn was complimented by the visitors for the fair and just manner of his assessments of county property.

Thompson on Costa Rica avenue at Burlingame to Francis Warner of San Francisco for $8,350 cash and two large lots opposite the Standard Oil Company at San Mateo to C. H. Ross for cash.

Some time ago the firm sold to the San Francisco Speedway Asosciation 26 acres of land at San Carlos belonging to Mr. Allard and others. This firm in conjunction with C. M. Wooster made the original sale of the 90 acres of land belonging to the Phelps estate to the Speedway Association. The 26 acres adjoined this tract.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

Miss Grace Studeman and her sister, Miss Ileen Studeman, two of Redwood City's most charming young ladies, have sent out 100 invitations to a Hallowe'en party to be given by them in Odd Fellows' Hall this evening. Catchy music by a Redwood city jazz band will be a feature. A vaudeville entertainment is to be given during intermission of dancing. All decorations will demonstrate the Hallowe'en spirit.

Frank H. Harris, the popular candidate for supervisor of San Francisco, is a brother of Matthew Harris, who resides on Selby lane. The candidate is making a strenuous canvass and his friends believe he will be elected. Mr. Harris has brains and business ability and if chosen he would make an ideal supervisor.

Mrs. Frank King, who has been critically ill at her home on Stambaugh street, is reported to be recovering. This will be glad news to her many friends throughout the county.

Undersheriff H. W. Lampkin was operated upon for a slight ailment at the Franklin Hospital in San Francisco on Tuesday. The operation was quite successful and Mr. Lampkin will be home in about two weeks.

WILLIAMS OBJECTS TO JAP'S RECKLESS DRIVING

Shigru Imatsu, a Palo Alto Japanese, paid a fine of $25 on a charge of reckless driving made by H. L. Williams of Redwood City before Justice U. A. Sontheimer in San Jose. At the time of the accident the Japanese is said to have defied the complainant to do anything about the matter. The accident was caused by the Japanese turning out to pass a truck without taking notice as to the road being clear and running head-on into the Williams machine.

HAVE WE A STATE UNIVERSITY?

More worry has been made for the regents of the University of California by an impertinent question propounded to the attorney general of the state by the state board of control. At the university they are making a charge of $25 per semester as incidental fees. The board of control has received a number of protests against this charge and wants to know by what authority the powers make the assessment when tuition at the institution is supposed to be free to residents of the state, inasmuch as the state is putting up a big lot of money for its support. The attorney general has been asked not only to tell why such a charge can be imposed, but is requested to cite the law under which it is permitted.

Now this will be really embarrassing to the attorney general. He made a ruling not so very long ago in the case of Elwood Mead, state irrigation engineer. Mead is also lecturer on irrigation at the university. The state law provides that no one can hold two state jobs at the same time, nor can he draw salary from one department while employed in another. Compensation was refused a school principal at Oakland for lecturing at a county institute, the ruling of the state authorities being that he could not draw money from the state for work in two positions. But in the Mead case it was ruled that the university was practically a private institution, hence a state officer could draw pay from it and from the state treasury as well. Will this ruling be altered so as to return the university to the state or will it retain its status as practically a private institution?

A further embarrassment appears in a movement started by farmers in Santa Clara county. They want a practical farmer on the board of regents. There is the Davis farm school, which is a part of the university. The authorities object very strenuously to any suggestion that it be made a separate institution. Yet the farmers have nothing to say as to how it should be conducted. As the agricultural interests are quite powerful in California it would seem they will receive some attention from the apointing powers. Evidently the movement started by the state labor convention at San Jose to get a labor man appointed to the regency has had an awakening effect in other quarters.

Of course if the attorney general stands by his ruling that the university is practically a private institution those who would like to have a voice in its management will have to subside, as it is positively none of their business how the affairs of the institution are conducted. But if it is ruled that the University of California belongs to the people of the state there is some likelihood that the people may insist upon having something to say as to how it should be conducted.

ALL GET BUSY

The unemployment conference at Washington was absolutely right in its declaration that unemployment is primarily a community problem. If there is any one fault which may be charged against the American people it is the inclination in recent years to shift local responsibilities and duties to the national government. We think that by shifting the burden we shall avoid it, but such an assumption is the reverse of the truth. Distance of management means waste and increased overhead costs. The easiest, quickest and cheapest way to get things done, as a rule, is to have them done by local authorities under the scrutiny of citizens and taxpayers who know the situation by personal knowledge and can check up on efforts for relief and results attained. It is well to recall the fable of the teamster who, when his wagon was stuck in the mud, despaired of getting it out and sent for help. A passerby suggested "Put your shoulder to the wheel," which, when tried, proved all that was necessary.

BUILD THAT BRIDGE

The numerous chambers of commerce of the county have settled their differences regarding the manner of securing funds to construct the Dumbarton bridge and are all united in an effort to bring about the starting of the big enterprise which means so much to an Mateo county. It has been decided to have the bridge built with money raised by a bond issue in San Mateo county. The supervisors have tentatively agreed to call the election very soon so that the work may begin early next year. Preliminary surveys are to be made at once. No time should be lost, for private capital stands ready to go on with the enterprise and reap the benefits that will come from the charge of tolls. an Mateo county should not lose this opportunity of securing a substantial asset that will be the means of building up the peninsula and provide the best road system in the country. Let us all get behind this commendable enterprise and give every support and encouragement to the people who are working diligently for its success.

PLEDGED TO REPEAL TAX

In connection with discussion of the repeal of the excess profits tax it is pertinent to observe that in the campaign of 1920 both parties advocated the repeal of that tax.

The Republican platform declared that "Sound policy demands the early accomplishment of that real reduction of the tax burden which may be achieved by substituting simple for complex tax laws and procedure; by prompt and certain determination of the tax liability for delay and uncertainty; tax laws which do not for tax laws which do, excessively mulct the consumer or needlessly repress enterprise and thrift."

The Democratic platform advocated tax reform and a searching revision of revenue acts to fit peace conditions, "so that the wealth of the nation may not be withdrawn from productive enterprise and diverted to wasteful or non-productive expenditure."

These expressions have always been construed to apply to the excess profits tax.

If there had been any doubt as to the meaning of the two political platforms on that subject this doubt would have been removed by the interpretation placed thereon by the two leading candidates. In his first "front porch" talk at Marion on July 31. Mr. Harding said of the excess profits tax: "Its operations have been disappointing, its costs multiplied and pyramided and righteous changes ought to be sought at an early date."

In an address issued to the press on September 11, 1920, he said: "We must readjust our internal taxation, especially the excess profits tax, to remove the burdens it imposes upon the will to create and produce whether that will is the will of the big corporation, the small corporation or of the individual."

In his address to congress at the opening of the special session he said: "We are committed to the repeal of the excess profits tax and the abolition of inequities and unjustifiable exasperations in the present system."

In an article written by him for the New York Times and published in the issue of May 23, 1920, long before he had been nominated by the Democratic party, Mr. Cox said: "The excess profits tax, which was justified during the war, is not needed now." In his speech of acceptance Mr. Cox declared: "I believe that a better form of taxation than the so-called excess profits tax may be found."

If any man of prominence in either political party took any exception whatever to the platform pledges or the utterances of presidential candidates on this subject, such qualification of the party pledges is not known to the American people.

LANDIS STRIKES HOME

Judge Landis has struck at the heart of the building stagnation. He has eliminated many of the restrictive rules laid down by the radical labor leaders, reduced wages to a point nearer their true competitive value and introduced the open shop to a limited extent. The effect will be a reduction in building costs of about 20 per cent. The decision relates only to the Chicago district, but it is predicted that its effect will soon be felt all over the country in a stimulation of building activity.

We believe that all people were put on earth for some useful purpose, but we also believe that nobody will ever find out what the purpose of some of them is.

It is pretty difficult for a man to take a large number of lodges seriously and his home seriously at the same time.

Then there is the kind of man who would rather argue and lose than not to argue at all.

The proceedings in reference to said election and bonds show that said bonds will be sold for the purpose of raising the money to build a new high school building on the site containing 40 acres of land situated in Redwood City facing El Camino Real, owned by said district (a special tax to purchase same was voted and collected and said property has been fully paid for), supplying said new building with furniture and apparatus, repairing the old buildings and improving the grounds.

The proceedings and records also show that at the bond election there were cast by qualified registered voters of said district 910 votes; that 889 of said votes were in favor of said bonds, and only 18 votes against the bonds, practically fifty to one in favor of the issuance of the bonds; that the assessed value of the property situate within the high school district as shown by the last assessment roll is $10,817,194; and that the present outstanding bonded indebtedness of the district is only $14,000

All proceedings taken and action had in and before the Board of Trustees and the Board of Supervisors in the foregoing matter were under the direction of Ross & Ross, attorneys at law, Redwood City, and the law firm of Goodfellow, Eells, Moore & Orrick, of San Francisco, has rendered the District a favorable opinion as to the legality of this bond issue, and a copy of said opinion will be delivered to the successful bidder or bidders for said bonds without charge.

By Order of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo.

ELIZABETH M. NASH,
County Clerk and ex-officio Clerk of said Board.

Dated: Redwood City, California, October 13, 1921.

Do you believe that this is true?

It has often been said that people don't know shoe values—that they look only at style and price—while they soon forget the wear and the length of service given.

We don't know! Sometimes when we see some of our finer grade shoes appearing on the market—identical in style—identical in looks—lower priced—but entirely different in real honest leather value—we often wonder if you appreciate the difference.

We try hard to select only the better grade shoes, because years of experience has proved that kind to be the cheapest in the end—more satisfactory to you and to us.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM NEW MANAGER CHAMBER COMMERCE

R. H. K. Smith, the new manager of the local chamber of commerce, has sent out the following communication to every business man of Redwood City and others interested in the welfare of the community. It is worth reading. Mr. Smith is an enterprising and energetic manager who proposes to do big things for Redwood City. Give him every support.

To the Members: The undersigned takes pleasure in announcing his appointment as secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce and wishes to report having assumed the duties October 22.

In deciding on a paid manager the chamber assumes a heavy burden financially, as in addition to expert help a campaign of publicity is being undertaken at large expense. Appropriate literature is being compiled for printing and in this connection the board of directors invites members to give the manager any data or statistics that may be of value. Typical photographs of Redwood City and vicinity will also be appreciated.

The undersigned was agreeably surprised and yet somewhat disappointed on investigating membership.

At present some eighty members are on the books, some of whom are badly delinquent in dues. On the other hand, the progressive and generous spirit shown by the members of the board of directors and others is extraordinary. These gentlemen, headed by President Towne, have doubled and quadrupled their regular monthly assessments. This is very gratifying, but at the same time is imposing the financial burden of promotion on a few live spirited enthsiastus. The burden of advancing Redwood City should be borne by the whole community. The undersigned trusts that the time is not far distant when our public spirited officers and members can be put back on an equality basis with all. They deserve the thanks of Redwood City for their patriotic spirit.

Some of our most prominent citizens are not affiliated with the chamber and it is our desire to bring them into "line" as soon as possble. Redwood City Chamber of Commerce honor roll will be published soon, naming a list of all business men and residents who are members and who are giving their time and money toward furthering the advancement of the community. Let us hope that this list will be complete and show not less than four hundred active members instead of the "faithful eighty" as at present.

The board of directors will have work for all in the various committees. Plans are now being arranged to sponsor an agricultural, pastoral and industrial society, horticultural and agricultural association, horticultural society and show, museum, junior chamber of commerce, automobile club, commercial club, etc.

The chamber itself is organizing a charities endorsement bureau, local merchants' credit information bureau, etc., and in addition compiles statistics toward the promotion and development of Redwood City waterfront.

Traffic and rail matters.
Industrial cooperation anl indorsements.
Residential and other inquiries.
Roads and highways.
Aviation fields.
Lectures, exhibits, etc.
Civics, schools, etc.

On file in the chamber for the use of members will be found trade and industrial newspapers, travel information and innumerable references on various subjects. In addition the manager will be pleased at all times to give expert advice on transportation claims and troubles, and be a "trouble man' 'in general. The board welcomes suggestions and even some "kicks" for the betterment of Redwood City, its business men and its residents.

In conclusion, the undersigned wishes to thank the local newspapers for their public spirit in giving free space weekly for chamber weekly remarks. An article covering our hopes, aspirations and accomplishments will be published as promised so that the public may know just what we are doing.

Commencing December 1 the office of the chamber will be open every evening from 7:15 to 9:15 for the convenence of members.

A prize is being offered for a distinctive Redwood City slogan which will be used by the merchants and others on their stationery, sign boards, etc. This slogan should be short, appropriate and easily remembered. All interested should send their suggestions in a sealed envelope addressed to the secretary-manager, Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, Drew Building, marking the outside of the envelope "prize slogan." Competitors should have their suggestions in hand on or before 7 p. m. Wednesday, November 23. Write or typewrite same plainly on white paper with name and address on the reverse side of paper.

R. H. K. SMITH.
Secretary-Manager of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce.

"Making Extraordinary Mileage a Certainty—

Car Owners want more rubber on the tread where the wear is hardest; more gum between cord plies to perfect a resilient and powerful carcass. And they want a scientifically constructed Non Skid tread with all angles and contacts to resist skidding and give sure traction. Firestone Cord Tires have met these demands of the car owners.

Read Letters Below—
Records from 29,000 to 57,000 Miles

Cord Tires built the Firestone way could not fail to produce mileage. Every day, from all over the country, comes the word that 10,000, 20,000 or 30,000 miles are frequent and consistent records.

Now and then they are emphasized by unusual instances such as quoted below. Performances like these demonstrate the ultimate possibilities of Firestone Cords under careful driving.

Sept. 10, 1921

Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.,
Jacksonville Branch,
Jacksonville, Florida.

Gentlemen:—

I submit herewith the history of a 33x4 Firestone Cord tire. This tire has run 57,000 miles. I have retreaded it seven times. The average mileage to each retreading was about 7,000. I think you will agree this is a remarkable record. It is especially unusual as I know the owner to be a severe driver. However, he gives his tires proper inflation. The tire in question is not yet out of service and has every indication of being sufficiently strong for another retread. I am mailing photographs under separate cover.

Thirteenth & Harmon Place,
Minneapolis.

Gentlemen:—

It occurs to me that you might be interested in the mileage that I obtained from the set of Firestone Cord tires on my Dodge coupe. The first tire went over 29,000 miles. The second tire rolled up a mileage of between 34,000 and 35,000. These were both rear tires and had been cut considerably by chains. The two front tires have gone better than 35,000 miles and are still in good condition. I expect to get at least 40,000 miles from each of them. I need scarcely say that the Firestone Cord will be my tire choice for the future.
